

Atlas Autoware

2023-24 Sponsorship Packet

Driving toward the future.

Introduction

Atlas Autoware is a robotics team of over 30 high school students who develop autonomous vehicle technology. We compete in prestigious international competitions and plan on building a full-scale self-driving car by 2026.

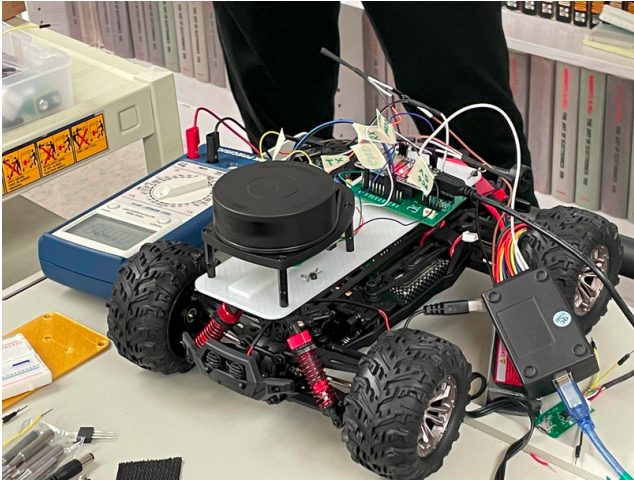

Our team has previously competed in the 2022 F1-Tenth Competition at the IEEE International Conference for Robotics and Automation. As the only high school team, our autonomous navigation system placed 8th against 72 other teams of university students.

We plan on competing in the upcoming 2024 Intelligent Ground Vehicle Competition where college teams build medium-sized autonomous vehicles to navigate a road environment. We also plan on competing in the 2024 F1-Tenth Competition.

Our Plan/Progress

1/18 Scale Driving Car

Status: Completed (2022)

- Can autonomously navigate a defined track
- Currently built 3 models
